chapter 1

“Age appears best in four things: old wood to burn, old wine to drink, old friends to trust and old authors to read.”

– Francis Bacon

featured wines

The "Vitis Vinifera" grape, believed to have originated in modern-day Georgia, has been planted around the world to make wine. After its introduction to the Mediterranean, the Romans planted it throughout Europe, covering what we know as the "Old World" of wine. The journey of this little grape is fascinating because as it traveled the world, it adapted to new surroundings and climates by changing skin color, just as humans did. This resulted in the derivation of different wine cultures around the globe. The euphemism "what grows together, goes together" holds true in light of this. Just as humans traversed the globe, changed skin color, and adapted to new environments, the grape endured the same journey and adapted to the new cultures emerging globally. By enjoying wine from other parts of the world, we can share culture and tastes, bringing us all closer and teaching us to appreciate differences.

chapter 2

“Only the unimaginative can fail to find a reason for drinking champagne.”

– Oscar Wilde

sparkling and white wine

Champagne owes its existence to a serendipitous accident. After the grape harvest in Champagne, France, the wine would often fail to complete its fermentation due to the region's cold winter temperatures, which halted the yeast's activity. As a result winemakers would bottle the wine before fermentation was complete unwittingly setting off a secondary fermentation in the warmer temperatures of spring that increased the CO2 levels in the bottles. Regrettably, the weak French glass bottles of the time could not withstand the pressure, causing many to explode. Winemakers initially regarded this as a sign of poor fermentation. When English winemakers started using stronger glass bottles with reinforced punts, they were able to contain the pressure and capture the effervescence that had been eluding them. This discovery transformed Champagne into the epitome of luxury that it remains to this day. Eventually, thanks in part to studies conducted by Madam Clicquot of the Champagne house Veuve Clicquot, Champagne producers developed the Méthode Traditionnelle perfecting the process of a second fermentation in the bottle.

Patience rewarded. This curated selection showcases Champagnes aged for an extended time on lees and their disgorgement is delayed. The lees round off the acidity and part aromas of yeast and bread. Expect layered complexity, and a creamy, nut-laced texture born from extended contact with the wine's own sediment. These bottles speak in low tones— brioche, hazelnut, dried citrus—and finish with a quiet authority that only time can teach. Some houses elevate this philosophy through Oenothèque or Vinothèque programs, holding back select vintages for late release after prolonged aging in the bottle. These wines mature, revealing the slow evolution of terroir, tension, and time. This luxurious selection represents the top 1% of Champagne.

tête de cuvée and prestige

"The 'tête de cuvée' or 'head blend' are the very best representation of vineyards and house style(s) for each producer, and are made in only the finest years, hence the rarity of these sublime Champagnes. Many are aged on the lees for years longer than the laws require, giving these wines great richness and complexity. Additionally we are proud to feature a selection of grower champagnes and producers who have a close oversight of their vineyards, highlighting the unique terroir and artisanal craftmanship."

champagne

"In 1876, the Champagne house of Louis Roederer created "Cristal" – the entire production of this rare champagne went exclusively to Tsar Alexander II, hence the tamper-proof crystal clear bottle….Today, the house of Louis Roederer still produces Cristal only in exceptional years…the wine undergoes extensive ageing (7 years), before release, resulting in a smooth Champagne of unrivaled richness and complexity. Even more rare, is the Cristal Vinothéque which ages for close to twenty years prior to disgorgement, proving these tremendous wines incredible ability to improve with age."

champagne

Champagne is a challenge between climate and farmer. Each growing season in Champagne brings its own obstacles—frost, rain, heat spikes, or drought—and only in the most balanced years does the fruit attain the ripeness, acidity, and aromatic depth worthy of being declared a vintage. In these rare years, houses bottle the harvest as a vintage Champagne, capturing the singular character of that season. In other years, producers blend multiple harvests to create a non-vintage cuvée—a deliberate, consistent expression of house style. This blending smooths out weather variation and ensures reliability across releases. Non-vintage Champagne is not lesser—it's engineered for balance, continuity, and drinkability while vintage champagne can stand out in representing a singular moment in time.

Champagne's identity is not only shaped in the cellar—it begins in the vineyard. Récoltant-Manipulants (RM) are grower-producers who farm their own grapes, produce their own wine and bottle their own champagne. This direct control allows for precision viticulture, intentional harvest timing, and hands-on quality assurance from budbreak to bottle. Their wines often reflect a deeper sense of terroir and personal stewardship. In contrast, Négociant-Manipulants (NM) purchase fruit from multiple growers across the region. While many NMs maintain rigorous standards, they rely on external farming practices—trusting that the fruit was cared for with integrity. RM Champagnes are often more expressive, site-specific, emotionally resonant, and often more sustainable and organic—each bottle a direct line to the grower's philosophy.

mexico sparkling

"Locally called 'Vino Espumoso', these sparkling wines are an increasingly celebrated gem of the Western Hemisphere. Hand crafted in the high-altitude vineyards of Baja California, these effervescent wines showcase a unique terroir, techniques old and new, and local grapes such as Macabeo and Chenin Blanc. With crisp acidity, vibrant fruit flavors, and elegant bubbles, Mexican sparkling wine offers a refreshing alternative to its well-known counterparts.

chapter 3

“In Vino Veritas”

(In wine, there’s truth)

– Latin proverb

red wine

Caesar often described his soldiers as more controlled and disciplined in how they drank wine, especially compared to the tribes they fought. He talks about this in his work Commentarii de Bello Gallico, which is his own account of the Gallic Wars. In Commentarii de Bello Gallico and other Roman writings, the Romans portray themselves as civilized, disciplined, and guided by Dignitas, a sense of honor and self-control. Caesar uses details like drinking habits to highlight this, showing that his soldiers behaved with restraint while their opponents did not. In the end, the Roman world returned again to the idea of in vino veritas, the belief that wine revealed a person's true nature and, in doing so, reflected the values they claimed to uphold.

"Known as the first AVA in California, Napa Valley AVA was established in 1981 and only produces 4% of California wines. Napa Valley now includes 16 sub-AVA's. Napa has a very rare Mediterranean climate which is the perfect climate that offers a long hang season and moderate summers. The success of Napa Valley as a whole was not solidified until the Judgement of Paris in 1976- a blind tasting between top French Châteaux and Domains and top wines from Napa Valley selected by Steven Spurrier. The tasting ended in the top prize in both red and white categories going to Napa Valley. This tasting was adopted by the State of California as an official historical event and proved the Napa Valley idiom, "if one of us succeeds, we all succeed."

Meteor Vineyard is a collaborative project of vineyard proprietor Barry Schuler and longtime Napa Valley winemakers Bill and Dawnine Dyer. Located on a knoll in Napa Valley's Coombsville appellation, their vineyard benefits from a unique combination of elevation, aspect and stony, rich volcanic soil, which produces Napa Valley's most distinctive Cabernet Sauvignon. They produce just two wines, both exclusively made from 100% estate-grown exceptional Cabernet Sauvignon. Additionally, as the wines are made for the long term, a complete library is available that spans from the inaugural 2005 vintage onwards, allowing wine enthusiasts to explore the full evolution of the exceptional Cabernet Sauvignon.

"In 1986, the same year San Manuel's Bingo hall opened, Jean Phillips purchased the land and planted the 56-acre Screaming Eagle vineyard. Phillips had no idea that this special piece of Oakville dirt, coupled with the extraordinary talents of winemaker Heidi Barrett would create a wine and cult phenomenon in Napa Valley. The inaugural 1992 vintage scored 99 points with several perfect 100 point scores to follow. Decades later, quantities are small and it is still one of the world's most sought-after wines…"

"Oenologists love to talk about Phylloxera and the devastation it caused. It is rare that we get to imagine the world without the louse that destroys grapevines. Scarecrow, however, offers us the window into this world. Planted in 1945, by JJ Cohn, the original Scarecrow vineyard planted on St George rootstock was never affected. These 'Old Men' vines are at the heart of this wine made by Winemaker Celia Welch. Named Scarecrow in homage to Cohn, the producer of the original Wizard of Oz film. These old vines produce wines of power and strength, floral nuance and a silky palate. As close as you can get to Bordeaux Grand Cru in Napa."

cabernet sauvignon

"Cardinale is a limited-production blend from Napa Valley's most recognized mountain appellations, including Diamond Mountain, Howell Mountain, Mount Veeder, and Spring Mountain. Each parcel is aged separately to build unique complexities and are blended just before bottling. The different appellations are allowed to tell their stories clearly this way. Mountain terroir is essential to Cardinale's profile even though the rocky soils, steep aspects and exposed conditions are among the most challenging in California. Each of our esteemed mountain vineyards creates a beautiful note onto itself, but the composition they create together results in a remarkable symphony of flavor, texture and complexity resulting in the most structured, masculine and complex wines."

bordeaux blends

Started in 1978 as a partnership between Robert Mondavi and Baron Philippe de Rothschild. Mondavi was a visionary with a pioneer spirit, and the Rothschild had their first growth heritage. Their intent was to create a Cabernet-led Bordeaux blend conceived as a "Grand Vin" and not a new world experiment. The result is Opus One, a wine that embodies the freedom of the new world and the romance and heritage of Bordeaux. Known as one of the most Iconic expressions of luxury wines in California.

"Vérité 'La Joie' was inspired by the finest wines from the Pauillac region of Bordeaux. La Joie is derived from a layered concentration of Cabernet Sauvignon vines grown along the steep hillsides and volcanic benches of the Mayacamas Mountains. Vigneron Pierre Seillan tends to a mosaic of more than fifty micro-crus to produce the complex signature of La Joie."

"Vines have been cultivated in the region of Burgundy since the 1st century. The narrow escarpment in the north, known as the 'Côte d'Or' or Golden Slopes, is where Pinot Noir and Chardonnay reach their ultimate expression with captivating aromas and flavors that seize the senses. The region is very small and split into the Côte de Nuits and Côte de Beaune. The best grapes come from Grand Cru Vineyards and the next best come from Premier Cru Vineyards with the Grand Cru vineyards contributing to just 3% of total production.The wines of Burgundy can be hard to come by. From the village to Grand Cru wines these selections are from top-rated producers and vintages."

"DRC as it is known is of the world's most famous wineries and a defining estate in Burgundy. with roots reaching back to viticulture from the Cistercian monks who planted famous cites like Clos de Vougeot and Musigny. These vineyards and the intensive record keeping of the monks helped shape the modern idea of terroir—small, precisely defined parcels whose identity is protected by centuries of stewardship. Several of DRC's grand cru sites are Monopoles, meaning the entire vineyard is owned and farmed by a single estate, this contrasts with Napoleonic law dividing land equally for inheritance. In Burgundy, a 'Monopole' is owned by one entity and allows complete control over farming, harvesting, and winemaking, creating a singular, uninterrupted expression of place."

first growth and classed bordeaux

"Made up of the Médoc and Graves regions, the wines on the Left Bank of the Gironde River are extremely well known, with many Châteaux producing great wines for centuries. Typically 70% or more, Cabernet Sauvignon, blended with Merlot, Cabernet Franc, Malbec, and Petit Verdot. Using a classification system from 1855, producers are rated from "First Growth" to "Fifth Growth." These wines fetch the highest auction prices and top vintages will age gracefully for 30+ years…"

"The Right Bank of the Gironde River produces round, richly textured wines. Dominated by Merlot and Cabernet Franc these wines drink well young and age remarkably. Here you will find some of the most sought after Bordeaux in the world. Top producers rival the First Growths from the other side of the river in quality and price."

rhône valley

"Running along the Rhône river the Rhône valley has a north and a south end. Northern Rhône only produces one red grape -Syrah - which is savory and full bodied but elegant. Appellations like Côte-Rôtie and Hermitage produce this stunning wine. The south is dominated by Grenache, but also blended with syrah and mourvedre along with 10 other grape varietals. Wines from the Southern Rhône are warmer with brighter notes and higher alcohol content. Châteauneuf-du-Pape is the most famous of the southern blends."

Distilling spirits was introduced to Scotland by monks in the 15th century, evolving into whisky production with each region developing distinct styles. Speyside is known for its fruity and honeyed notes, while the Highlands offer diverse profiles ranging from floral to peaty. Islay's smoky whiskies are shaped by the island's reliance on peat, and the Lowlands are celebrated for their light, grassy spirits. Though Campbeltown's distilleries have dwindled, they maintain a proud legacy, and the Islands produce whiskies that reflect their coastal character and peaty influence.

Bruichladdich Distillery, nestled on the Isle of Islay, is a testament to the rich heritage of Scotch whisky. Established in 1881 by the Harvey brothers, the distillery has a storied past. The distillery honors its heritage by producing three distinct whisky ranges: the unpeated Bruichladdich, the heavily peated Port Charlotte, and the super-heavily peated Octomore. This series pushes the boundaries of peated whisky, with each release showcasing the highest levels of peatiness ever recorded. Octomore's intense smokiness is balanced by Bruichladdich's commitment to quality and purity, creating a whisky that is both powerful and nuanced. Each release in the Octomore series is a unique exploration of peat, terroir, and maturation, reflecting the distillery's dedication and rich history honoring the traditions of scotch and the intrinsic connection to the land.

Suntory, the epicenter of Japanese whisky, was founded in 1923 by Shinjiro Torii. Inspired by Scotch traditions, Torii established the Yamazaki Distillery near Kyoto. Suntory combines Scottish methods with Japanese precision, using pristine water and high-quality barley. Suntory's willingness to explore and innovate includes playing with peat, incorporating this traditional element to create uniquely peated expressions that pay homage to Scotch whisky's roots while showcasing Japanese craftsmanship. Drawing on the best practices and techniques from around the world this international collaboration enriches their approach to whisky-making, ensuring that each bottle reflects a harmonious blend of globalization and ancient traditions.

the last drop distillers

The Last Drop Distillers of London are dedicated to unearthing the world's rarest and most extraordinary spirits. Founded in 2008, their mission is driven by a love for the finest spirits and an expertise in discovering hidden casks of exceptional quality. Their releases, including whiskies, bourbons, cognacs, ports, and rums, are celebrated for their sensory experiences and exceptional flavors. One of their most renowned releases was their 15th, a 1925 Petite Grand Champagne Cognac. Distilled in a small, traditional wood-fired still, this cognac was hidden behind a wall in 1940 to protect it from invading German forces during WWII. Forgotten for nearly 80 years, it was unearthed by The Last Drop team, yielding fewer than 200 bottles. These incredible bottlings are a focal point of our collection because of the moments in time they represent and the breathtaking quality they hold beyond the cork and wax.

bourbon

Bourbon's rich history can be distilled down to tradition and innovation. By the 18th century Pioneers like Elijah Craig, often called the "Father of Bourbon," revolutionized the spirit by aging it in charred oak barrels, giving it a distinct character. Colonel E.H. Taylor Jr. championed the Bottled-in-Bond Act of 1897, working with the American Government to ensure quality, integrity, and the first US bill designed to protect the consumers. Bourbon's cultural significance is profound and deeply intertwined with American heritage. Bourbon plays a role in music, literature, pop culture and celebrations. Each glass of bourbon is a journey through time, a salute to craftsmanship, a testament to the land and the hands that crafted it. Whether savoring a sip of a classic bourbon or exploring innovative new expressions, bourbon remains a symbol of American resilience, creativity, and a close relationship with the Government.

The Van Winkle Collection is the epitome of cult whiskies. Originating from the legacy of Julian "Pappy" Van Winkle Sr., who first entered the bourbon industry in the late 1800s. Production is intentionally limited and makes each bottle exceptionally hard to obtain. This scarcity is compounded by the meticulous selection of barrels used for aging, as only a small percentage meet the rigorous standards required to bear the Pappy name. With a reputation bolstered in the community, the Van Winkle Collection has garnered a cult following unlike any other. Its rarity has made it a coveted treasure among collectors and enthusiasts, often leading to sky-high secondary market prices. This series' fame has even inspired daring heists, with thefts making headlines, adding to its mystique. This notoriety only amplifies the allure of Pappy Van Winkle.

Rye, the Original American Whiskey, predates Bourbon by centuries and even The United States itself. This distinct and cherished spirit, is differentiated from bourbon primarily by its mash bill. While bourbon must contain at least 51% corn, rye whiskey requires a minimum of 51% rye grain. This key ingredient imparts rye whiskey with its signature spicy and robust flavor profile, in contrast to the sweeter and more caramel-forward characteristics of bourbon. Rye whiskey has deep roots in the northeastern United States, particularly in Pennsylvania and Maryland, where it was a popular choice among early American settlers. It played a vital role in the pre-Prohibition era, contributing to the distinctive cocktail culture of the time. Classic cocktails such as the Manhattan, Old Fashioned, and Sazerac often feature rye whiskey, capitalizing on its bold and spicy notes.

armagnac/cognac

Cognac is a symbol of luxury and prestige, produced under strict regulations to ensure its quality and authenticity. One of the most illustrious expressions of Cognac is the Louis XIII by Rémy Martin. This extraordinary Cognac is crafted using a meticulous age-staking process, where hundreds of eaux-de-vie, aged from 40 to 100 years, are blended to create a masterpiece of unparalleled complexity and depth. Each bottle of Louis XIII represents a legacy of craftsmanship, passed down through generations of master blenders and embodies the essence of French heritage and the art of fine living. Each decanter is a work of art, crafted from hand-blown Baccarat crystal, inspired by an old Louis XIII decanter discovered on a battlefield dated 1569. The dedication to quality and tradition in producing Louis XIII is a testament to the luxury of Cognac.

ArteNOM is a distinctive Tequilero that highlights the importance of NOMs (Norma Oficial Mexicana) from a terroir perspective. NOMs are four-digit codes assigned to each tequila distillery, providing insight into the unique characteristics and flavors of different regions. Tequilas from the highlands (Los Altos) of Jalisco, such as those from El Pandillo (NOM 1579), are known for their sweeter profile. In contrast, tequilas from the lowlands (Valle) of Jalisco, like those from Tequila Cascahuin (NOM 1123), exhibit earthier, bolder flavors. ArteNOM curates exceptional tequilas from various distilleries, each with its own NOM, offering a rich tapestry of flavors that reflect the distinct terroirs of Jalisco. Emphasizing these codes allows tequila enthusiasts to explore the diverse landscapes and craftsmanship that define the diversity of Tequila.

Rum is an incredibly diverse spirit, reflecting cultures and traditions as diverse as its origins. One of our most notable expressions is the Appleton Estate 17 Year Old Legend. This remarkable rum pays homage to the iconic J. Wray & Nephew 17 Year Old, the spirit that inspired the original Mai Tai cocktail in the 1940s. This original recipe was a symbol of excellence and innovation, captivating bartenders and rum lovers alike. American bartenders fled to all parts of the world during prohibition and the modern Appleton Legend continues to celebrate that history that defines Jamaican rum. Beyond its taste, the Appleton Legend embodies legacy of Rum with ties to the Jamaican community, economy and historical roots. The diverse world of rum offers endless possibilities, each bottle a testament to the passion and creativity of those who craft it, and where they come from.

willett family estate

The Willett Family Estate is a revered name in the world of bourbon and rye whiskey, known for its exceptional single barrel picks. Each barrel selected for the Willett Family Estate label is a unique expression, offering a distinct flavor; the process of selecting a single barrel is an art form, involving meticulous tasting and evaluation to ensure only the finest barrels are chosen. The barrels are aged in the distillery's historic rickhouse, standing the test of time, having been built by the family in 1936. One notable aspect of Willett's single barrel program is the opportunity for stores and groups to participate in the selection process. This hands-on experience allows participants to taste through multiple barrels, guided by the expertise of Willett's team, to find the perfect expression. Each selected barrel is then bottled and labeled with specific details, such as the barrel number, age, proof, and tasting notes, making each bottle a one-of-a-kind treasure.
